

Helping hands

Bela Raja writes a book on kids with learning problems

Actor Suniel Shetty and architect Hafeez Contractor will launch Bela Raja's Children with Learning Difficulties: A Guide for Parents and Teachers today at Crossword, Kemps Corner. The event kicks off at 6.45 p.m.

Bela Raja unwraps the mysteries and myths surrounding learning difficulties in children and explains why their needs must be met. These children are often gifted and thus, it is necessary to teach them in a manner that they can learn. The book highlights several multi-sensory strategies that can be by parents and teachers. Bela has shared her own experiences while working with children who have learning difficulties. Says Hafeez, "I wish a book like this was available in days when we were kids. We wouldn't have got beaten by our teachers for not spelling right and they could have helped us instead. Many mothers will be happy to have this book at their disposal."

