
SUBJECT: Headwork

TOPIC: Patterns & Relationships

When considering any two objects, there are points in which the objects are alike and points in which they are different.

For example, consider the sun and moon.

Alike: They are both in the sky. They are both round

Different: The sun is hot, the moon is cold. The sun shines with its own
Light, the moon shines by reflected light.

Exercise:

Write down one point saying how each pair is alike and one point saying how each pair is different.

1. A circle and a square

Alike _____

Different _____

2. A building and a hut

Alike _____

Different _____

3. A dog and a cat

Alike _____

Different _____

4. A bangle and a earring

Alike _____

Different _____

5. A sofa and a chair

Alike _____

Different _____

6. A tree and grass

Alike _____

Different _____

7. Skin and plastic sheets

Alike _____

Different _____

8. Sneezing and coughing

Alike _____

Different _____

9. Newspapers and magazines

Alike _____

Different _____

10. Chalk and cheese

Alike _____

Different _____

11. Gold and Silver

Alike _____

Different _____

12. Milk and water

Alike _____

Different _____